THE GREATEST LOVE OF ALL

Vol. 2,
Issue 2

CONTENT

Calvary greetings, dearly beloved, and happy Easter to you! To usher in this beautiful season, we present the second issue of our Apostolic Faith Campus Fellowship Newsletter, themed "The Greatest Love of All".

Over the years, love has been told and retold in countless ways. From Romeo and Juliet to Titanic, in novels, in movies, and in songs.

Yet the season of Easter tells of the greatest love to ever exist. The Love that loved us while we were yet sinners. The Love that sought us when we were aliens from the commonwealth of Israel.

The Love that mended our broken relationship with God. The Love that sponsored Calvary's sacrifice. John 15:13

Greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his friends. Romans 5:8

But God commendeth his love toward us, in that, while we were yet sinners, Christ died for us. The greatest love of all is found at the feet of Jesus- unconditional, unending, and enduring. It is indeed the kind of love every heart longs to experience.

Best of all? It is open to everyone! John 6:37 ...And him that cometh to me I will in no wise cast out.

As you journey through this issue, may your heart grow tender toward the Love that birthed this season, and may you find rest in the arms already open to receive you.

Yours in Christ Jesus,
The Editorial Team.

THE UNIMPEACHABLE LOVE OF GOD

1 John 4:8: "He that loveth not knoweth not God, for God is love." Indeed, God is love. As water is so vital to our system, so also is the love of God vital to our spiritual system.

1 Corinthians 13:13: "And now abideth faith, hope, charity, these three; but the greatest of these is charity." The greatest of these is love, because it is in charity, or love, that other things flow. In love flows faith. In love flows hope. In love flows every other blessing you can receive from God. Without it, you cannot receive anything.

When we say the unimpeachable love of God, the Bible has clearly told us that God is love. And if anybody says that he loves and does not love God, he does not know Him. There are many people who say they love God. On Sunday, they declare it. But from Monday to Saturday, they quarrel with their neighbors. That is not the love of God.

God has shown us how much He loves us. The popular verse, John 3:16: "For God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in Him should not perish but have everlasting life." That is the beginning of the love of God manifested in our hearts.

God has shown us His love. He also wants us to show Him our own love. He wants us to reciprocate. We must ensure that the love of God is made manifest in our hearts. Otherwise, we will not be able to take hold of our inheritance. Children of God, you have an inheritance procured for you by Jesus Christ.

When Jesus came, they tried Him and sentenced Him to death. He never committed anything. But glory be to God, Jesus was crucified for your sin and for my sin. But God commendeth His love toward us, in that while we were yet sinners, Christ died for us. You can see the magnanimity of God. You can see the unimpeachable love of God. He has loved you with such love that cannot be uttered. Do you love God in the same fashion? Because iniquity shall abound, the love of many shall wax cold. I hope your love is not cold for Him. He wants to rehydrate it today. There is going to be spiritual rehydration.

Remember the unimpeachable love of God upon your life. Remember all that He did to procure and sustain that love. On the third day, Jesus arose from the dead. Glory be to God. John 14:1-3: "Let not your heart be troubled. Ye believe in God; believe also in Me. I go to prepare a place for you. And if I go and prepare a place for you, I will come again and take you unto Myself, that where I am, ye may be there also."

My dear brethren, do you want to go and inherit the kingdom, the inheritance that He has procured for you? There is still room for you. If your love has dwindled, if your love is cold, you can rehydrate it today. There is spiritual rehydration going on now, and that is going to be done by the blood of Jesus.

Jesus is still waiting. He wants to give you His love anew. Come to Jesus today, and I am very sure you will feel His love, and the blessings of God will continually be yours. Amen.

HIGHLIGHTING OUR HERITAGE

I am deeply grateful to God for a precious heritage in the Gospel of Jesus Christ. I thank Him for the salvation of my soul, His mercy, guidance, and faithfulness throughout the different seasons of my life. As I look back today, I can clearly see how God ordered my steps from my campus days, using every experience to mould my character, strengthen my faith, and shape the person I have become.

I first gained admission into the university to study Actuarial Science, but later my course was changed to Mathematics and Statistics. By the grace of God, I completed my undergraduate studies in 1990. The life of a young undergraduate then, as it is now, came with many academic, spiritual, and moral challenges, but God in His mercy saw me through them all.

While on campus, I learnt early that people should not copy another person's pattern blindly. I often caution students not to use my study structure as a template, because what worked for me may not work for someone else. During my time in school, I studied for about four and a half days in a week, did not study on Sundays, and usually ended my study period by midday on Fridays. This structure worked for me because, before entering the university, I had already passed my junior professional examinations, and by my first semester in my first year, I had progressed to the senior level.

From the very first day I entered the university, I was actively involved in church work and campus fellowship. I was privileged to be among those who started the campus AVS. In 1985, we were a small group of believers in Lagos, and at that time, we called ourselves Old Faith. Different areas operated under different names in those early days, as there was no unified identity across campuses. By 1987, as the work grew and God helped us to see the need for a common identity, we began to use the name Campus AVS across various areas.

My involvement in campus AVS was not passive. I was entrusted with the responsibility of coordinating music for the campus AVS, and wherever there was a campus AVS programme, my service followed. My church responsibilities were also quite demanding, yet God helped me to combine academics, fellowship duties, and church work faithfully. In Lagos, we served across several institutions under the campus AVS structure, and those years of service remain very dear to my heart.

After completing my undergraduate studies, I had a break of about seventeen years before returning to formal education. In 2007, I returned to school to study Music, marking another important phase of my journey. By the grace of God, after pursuing three different degrees across different seasons of my life, I can truly testify that I graduated as a Christian, with my faith preserved and my conviction strengthened.

I thank God for the role campus AVS played in shaping my life. The love, unity, discipline, and sense of responsibility I learnt through fellowship and service laid a strong foundation for my future. Serving God on campus did not hinder my academic progress; rather, it prepared me for life. As I continue my pilgrimage on earth, I have resolved to depend wholly on God and place my complete trust in Him. My advice to the younger generation is to understand their capacity, remain disciplined, make room for God, and trust Him completely, for He never fails to reward faithful service.

TESTIMONIES

FAVOUR CHIDINMA MARCUS
NIGER DELTA
UNIVERSITY

I am grateful for the way God has worked in my life. Since He saved me, He has truly been my guiding strength in every area. I have experienced His provision in tangible ways. When I was about to resume school, I had no clear way to cover my fees or meet my basic needs. But through prayer and trust, God provided exactly what was needed. He also guided us in reviving the fellowship on my campus. As coordinator, God gave me the strength and wisdom to navigate the challenges we faced. Looking back, I can only acknowledge His faithfulness and give Him all the glory.

AKINADE TOYIN ESTHER
FEDERAL UNIVERSITY,
KATSINA

I am grateful for the salvation of my soul and for God's guidance throughout my journey. Gaining admission was challenging, but in His timing, He made it possible and led me to the right place. I deeply appreciate His protection, provision, and guidance from my first year all the way to my final year. Over these five years, God has continually shown His faithfulness, and He continues to reassure me that what He has promised and begun in my life, He will surely bring to completion.

EGBO RUTH AMARACHI
UNIVERSITY OF NIGERIA, NSUKKA

I was born into a Christian home, but that didn't automatically keep sin out of my life. Growing up, I struggled with stubbornness and often went against what I was taught. I experienced moments of turning to God and falling back again, until I reached a point where I was truly tired of living that way. I humbled myself and prayed sincerely, and in His mercy, God saved me. Since that day, He has been my all in all, providing for me, granting me admission, and supporting me through school all the way to my final year. I am indeed grateful to God.
